

Story starter!

If I hadn't looked closely, the tiny, focused creature could have easily gone unnoticed. Balancing precariously on the floating leaf, it looked vulnerable and strong all at once. Where was it going? How had it got there? How vast must the pond have appeared as it gripped onto the raft which nature had donated? I sighed as I imagined how the world looked through his beady, miniscule eyes...

Question time!

- ▶ How do you think the ant reached the place we see in the photo?
- ▶ What is the bubble made of?
- ▶ Where is the ant going?
- ▶ What could he notice on his journey?

Perfect picture!

What do you think the ant can see in front of him/her? Is it danger or is it something good? Write or draw what you think!

Sentence challenge!

Can you think of sentences using 2 adjectives to describe the following parts of the photograph?

- ▶ The water
- ▶ The leaf
- ▶ The ant's body

Sick sentences!

These sentences are 'sick' and need help to get better. Can you help?

- ▶ The leaf carried the ant across the water.
- ▶ He balanced his body by spreading his long legs.

